

National Council of Women's Organizations
714 G Street, SE, Suite 200 Washington, DC 20003
(p) 202-293-4505 (f) 202-293-4507
www.womensorganizations.org

Invite you to a Congressional briefing for Members of Congress,
Congressional staff, press and the public:

The Female Face of Foreclosure: The Impact of Subprime Lending on Women

Friday, July 25, 2008

1:30 p.m.-3:30 p.m.

1116 Longworth House Office Building

SPEAKERS:

Subprime Lending and Women: Who were the Primary Targets?

Avis Jones-DeWeever, Ph.D., Director, Research, Public Policy and Information
Center for African American Women
National Council of Negro Women

Older Women and the Impact of Foreclosures on their Economic Security

Ramsey Alwin, Director of the National Elder Economic Security Initiative™
Program, Associate Director of National Programs and Policy
Wider Opportunities for Women

Policy Proposals and Legislative Strategies: What are our Options?

Julia Gordon, Policy Counsel
Center for Responsible Lending

MODERATOR:

Shireen Mitchell, Executive Officer, Digital Sisters, Inc.
President, Community Technology Centers' Network (CTCNet)
Vice Chair, National Council of Women's Organizations

As co-chairs of the Committee on Congressional Briefings of the National Council of Women's Organizations, Legal Momentum and the Institute for Women's Policy Research are hosting a series of Congressional staff briefings. This briefing, organized by the NCWO Domestic Priorities Task Force, will address the specific impact of subprime mortgages and housing foreclosures on African American and older women as well as the merit of current policy proposals to address the crisis and legislative strategies for the prevention of future crises. For more information, contact Kimberly Otis (202) 293-4505.

NOTE to NCWO organizations and coalition partners:
Everyone is invited to attend and bring their organizational materials.