   How to join the Welfare Monitoring Network

2 Alphabetical List..................................................1
   The alphabetical list provides detailed information about each network member, including the affiliation, address, phone number, fax number, email address, and areas of interest.

3 State Index......................................................30
   The state index lists each member according to her or his state of residence.

4 Interest Index....................................................43
   The interest index lists each member according to her or his area of interest.

This directory was assembled by the Institute for Women’s Policy Research (IWPR) to provide a tool for networking among advocates, researchers, and other groups and individuals concerned with welfare reform issues. Because of the devolution of responsibility for welfare programs and policies to the state level, it has become more critical than ever for individuals and groups from different communities to share information about concerns, strategies, and successful programs.

Many of the individuals and groups in this directory also participate in IWPR’s Welfare Monitoring Listserv, founded in 1996 to provide a forum for debate and discussion on welfare and poverty issues. Listserv participants share research information and advocacy strategies and discuss questions related to poverty and welfare reform at the state and national level. Currently, more than 1,000 advocates, researchers, policymakers, and service providers participate in the Welfare Monitoring Listserv (WELFAREM-L).

This directory includes information about joining the Welfare Monitoring Listserv and Network, contact information about each member, an index listing each member by state, and an index listing each member by their area of interest related to the welfare debate.

The welfare listserv and the production of this directory was funded by the Charles Stewart Mott Foundation and was produced by Bethany Snyder, April Shaw, Annisah UmYrant, and Lisa Osburn of the Institute for Women’s Policy Research.
About the Institute for Women's Policy Research

The Institute for Women's Policy Research (IWPR) is a public policy research organization dedicated to informing and stimulating the debate on public policy issues of critical importance to women and their families.

IWPR focuses on issues of poverty and welfare, employment and earnings, work and family issues, the economic and social aspects of health care and domestic violence, and women's civic and political participation.

The Institute works with policy makers, scholars, and public interest groups around the country to design, execute, and disseminate research that illuminates economic and social policy issues affecting women and families, and to build a network of individuals and organizations that conduct and use women-oriented policy research.

IWPR, an independent, nonprofit organization, also works in affiliation with the graduate programs in public policy and women's studies at The George Washington University.

IWPR's work is supported by foundation grants, government grants and contracts, donations from individuals, and contributions from organizations. Members and affiliates of IWPR's Information Network receive reports and information on a regular basis. IWPR is a 501(c)(3) tax-exempt organization.

Welfare Monitoring Listserv

Since 1996, IWPR has moderated a listserv on welfare issues that provides a forum for sharing research information and advocacy strategies, and for discussing questions related to poverty and welfare reform at the state and national level.

Currently, more than 1,000 advocates, researchers, administrators, policy makers and service providers participate in the Welfare Monitoring Listserv (WELFAREM-L). This list is a premier source of current information on welfare policy and provides an avenue for diverse constituencies to dialog on an ongoing basis.

TO SUBSCRIBE TO WELFAREM-L:

- Go to http://hermes.circ.gwu.edu/archives/welfarem-1.html
- Click on 'Join or leave the list'
- Follow the instructions to join the list.

For more information about the Welfare Monitoring Listserv, please email adminwm@iwpr.org
